Homemakers Items

A suede jacket or a garment trimmed with leather may pose some problems to the buyer.

Miss L. Byrd Johnson, clothing specialist at VPI, points out that newly treated leathers are being offered this season. Even with careful handling, shrinkage has been a problem. Spots and stains do not seem to come out much easier than on garments without a special finish.

Miss Johnson says to consider the additional cost of care and upkeep of leather garments before you decide to include them in the family wardrobe. Remember the possibility of shrinkage and color change. Read the label carefully.

CURIOSITY PAYS HIM

Elkin, N. C.- While [illegible] smokehouse behind his home, Marshall, 6, saw a mouse run into a hole in one of the logs. He gouged into the hole and found a small tobacco can containing some money but couldn't get the sack out. He split the log in two and found $100 in old U. S. currency. Now he doesn't know how the money got there or plans to use it to buy U. S. Savings Bonds in Janice's name.

It's time to begin planning "trick or treat"—with Hallowe'en just around the corner.

For the young fry make "Hallowe'en Tom Cats"—

Recipe

1-tablespoon butter
1 package bite size shredded rice biscuits
1-3 cup butter
1-2 pound marshmallows (about 30)
9 black jelly beans
4 marshmallows
Shredded coconut

Use tablespoon of butter to generously butter a four quart bowl and the remainder for greasing fingers. Pour the cereal into the bowl. Heat the 1-3 cup butter and marshmallows over boiling water until the marshmallows are melted, stirring often to blend. Pour this mixture over the cereal. Mix well until all cereal is coated. Let stand until cool enough to handle. Divide into six equal portions. With buttered fingers firmly press each portion into a 2 1-2 inch ball. Cut the jelly beans in half crosswise to make the eyes. Use a half for each eye. Fix the mouth, cut the jelly beans in half lengthwise. Stick two or three long coconut shreds under the mouth for the whiskers. Cut each marshmallow into three triangular pieces for the ears. Insert a wooden stick into the bottom of the ball. Let stand (each in a tall glass) until firm, about four hours. Makes 6 tom cats.

LOUISA CHAPTER WINS AWARD

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 12.- The Louisa Future Farmer Chapter, Louisa County, Virginia, was named regional winner tonight of the Farm Safety award. Louisa was selected from over 2500 FFA chapters in the twelve Southern states. With the award went a check for $200.

Welford Sims, President of the Louisa Chapter, and Geo. B. Lancaster, Chapter Advisor, were present to receive the award. The presentation was made during the Wednesday evening session of the 28th annual national FFA convention in Kansas City's Municipal Auditorium.

This award is presented annually for outstanding achievement in the practice and promotion of farm safety.

Highlights of Accomplishment

The 86 active members of the Louisa County, Virginia, FFA Chapter, winner of the Farm Safety Award for the Southern region, have records to show that they reached more than 7,300 people during the 1954-55 school year in their campaign for safer farming.

One of their big projects was in the field of equipping farm machinery with reflector strips to, warn automobiles of their presence on highways at night. Forty-six farms of the community cooperated in the "Lite Farm Equipment" campaign

All members took part in a farm accident survey program that covered 170 families. All accdents were recorded and tabulated as to cause. Results were published in the county newspaper, and used for instructional purposes. Tied in with the recording of accidents was a program of locating and eliminating safety hazards. The 86 members located and corrected a total of more than 5,000 hazards.

Other activities by the Virginia boys included sponsorship of a contest in safe tractor driving, window displays built and exhibited in three towns, several talks on farm safety given by members before school and adult groups, and a safety play "This May Happen To You," presented to four school assemblies in the county. Twenty FFA members participated in the play.

Rona Ryder was chairman of the Louisa FFA chapter during the last term. Welford Sims was chapter president, and the vocational agriculture instructor is George B. Lancaster.

National Park Director In Appomattox Today

MR. ERNEST W. SEAY

Graveside services for Mr. Ernest Winston (Kit) Seay, 86, retired funeral director and embalmer, who died October 12 at the home of his niece, Mrs. W. S. Gills here, will be conducted at Kenbridge Cemetery, Kenbridge, Va. today at 3:00 P. M., by the Rev. Charles E. Stewart.

Masonic rites will be conducted by the Free State Lodge 225, Kenbridge, of which he was a member.

Mr. Seay had lived with his niece here for the past three and a half years.

He was born in Amelia County, May 16, 1869, and spent most of his life in Kenbridge, where he was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. His late wife was Mary Chappell Seay. He is survived by four other nieces.

Mr. Conrad L. Wirth, Director of the National Park Service, Washington, D. C., and Mr. Elbert Cox, Regional Director of Region 1, Richmond, Va., paid a visit to Appomattox today. They were en route to Washington after completing an extensive tour of National Parks in the Southeast.

While here they inspected the Appomattox Court House National Historical Park, and conferred with local Park Superintendent H. A. Gurney, Representative Watkins M. Abbitt, and others interested in the continued restoration of the historical shrines at Appomattox.

Appomattox is a growing town.

A. H. S. to play Halifax H. S. there Friday night.
